

Student college list

A counselor-style report on where to apply and why, drawn from this profile and public College Scorecard data.

This list was built for this student from the profile on file: a 3.8 GPA, a 1400 SAT, an academic interest in business, and a home state of NJ. The matching leaned toward campuses within easy reach of home and schools with strong aid and a manageable net price.

HOW TO READ THIS LIST

- REACH Admission is a stretch based on the published numbers, and each one is worth a single strong, well-prepared application.
- TARGET Your profile sits inside the typical admitted range, so these schools form the core of the list.
- LIKELY You are above the typical admitted range here, which puts you in a strong position.
-

REACH Admission is a stretch, worth one strong application

4 SCHOOLS

Princeton University

Princeton, NJ · Private

Admit rate 5% · SAT mid-50 1510–1580 · Avg net price $6,128/yr · 5,709 undergrads · Grad rate 98%

Princeton University is a private institution located in New Jersey with an undergraduate enrollment of 5,709. It features a low average net price of $6,128 alongside a high 98 percent four-year graduation rate.

WHY THIS MADE YOUR LIST

- Academic fit — An admit rate of 5 percent makes this a reach for every applicant.
 - Program fit — Few degrees here are in your listed interest areas.
 - Location — Located in New Jersey, your home state.
 - Cost — Average net price of $6,128 per year works in your favor given your financial aid needs.
-

Washington and Lee University

Lexington, VA · Private

Admit rate 14% · SAT mid-50 1430–1540 · Avg net price $23,781/yr · 1,881 undergrads · Grad rate 94%

Washington and Lee University is located in Virginia and has an undergraduate student body of 1,881. Business is a strong focal area here, accounting for 32 percent of degrees awarded.

WHY THIS MADE YOUR LIST

- Academic fit — An admit rate of 14 percent makes this a reach for every applicant.
 - Program fit — Business accounts for 32 percent of degrees at this school.
 - Location — Located in Virginia, a long way from your home state of New Jersey.
 - Cost — Average net price of $23,781 per year works in your favor given your financial aid needs.
 - Story fit — The heavy academic focus on business aligns nicely with your deep interest in finance and the stock market, though you will want to check their athletic offerings for college soccer separately.
-

Cornell University

Ithaca, NY · Private

Admit rate 9% · SAT mid-50 1500–1570 · Avg net price $28,690/yr · 15,995 undergrads · Grad rate 95%

Cornell University offers an undergraduate population of 15,995 students in New York. The school maintains a 95 percent four-year graduation rate and business degrees make up 11 percent of its graduates.

WHY THIS MADE YOUR LIST

- Academic fit — An admit rate of 9 percent makes this a reach for every applicant.
 - Program fit — Business accounts for 11 percent of degrees at this school.
 - Location — Located in New York, one state over from your home state of New Jersey.
 - Cost — Average net price of $28,690 per year works in your favor given your financial aid needs.
-

Carnegie Mellon University

Pittsburgh, PA · Private

Admit rate 12% · SAT mid-50 1500–1570 · Avg net price $31,944/yr · 7,304 undergrads · Grad rate 94%

Carnegie Mellon University is a private school in Pennsylvania with 7,304 undergraduate students. Business programs account for 10 percent of degrees awarded, and its graduates achieve median 10-year earnings of $114,862.

WHY THIS MADE YOUR LIST

- Academic fit — An admit rate of 12 percent makes this a reach for every applicant.
 - Program fit — Business accounts for 10 percent of degrees at this school.
 - Location — Located in Pennsylvania, one state over from your home state of New Jersey.
 - Cost — Average net price of $31,944 per year works in your favor given your financial aid needs.
-

Wilberforce University

Wilberforce, OH · Private

Admit rate 41% · Avg net price $5,567/yr · 822 undergrads · Grad rate 12%

Wilberforce University is a private institution in Ohio with a small undergraduate enrollment of 822 students. Business is the primary academic focus at the school, representing 47 percent of degrees granted.

WHY THIS MADE YOUR LIST

- Academic fit — This school reports no test score ranges, so it is bucketed on its 41 percent admit rate alone.
- Program fit — Business accounts for 47 percent of degrees at this school.
- Location — Located in Ohio, a long way from your home state of New Jersey.
- Cost — Average net price of $5,567 per year works in your favor given your financial aid needs.
- Story fit — The large concentration in business heavily supports your stock market passion, though you will want to look into their athletic programs regarding college soccer.

Rutgers University-New Brunswick

New Brunswick, NJ · Public

Admit rate 58% · SAT mid-50 1310–1500 · Avg net price $24,406/yr · 37,751 undergrads · Grad rate 84%

Rutgers University-New Brunswick serves a large undergraduate body of 37,751 in your home state of New Jersey. Business degrees represent 19 percent of all conferred degrees at this institution.

WHY THIS MADE YOUR LIST

- Academic fit — Your 1400 SAT (nudged to 1430 for your 3.8 GPA) sits inside its middle 50 percent range of 1310 to 1500.
- Program fit — Business accounts for 19 percent of degrees at this school.
- Location — Located in New Jersey, your home state.
- Cost — Average net price of $24,406 per year works in your favor given your financial aid needs.
- Story fit — Its business degree share supports your stock market ambition, but you will still need to investigate its varsity or club soccer opportunities for yourself.

Paul Quinn College

Dallas, TX · Private

Admit rate 40% · Avg net price $12,709/yr · 620 undergrads · Grad rate 27%

Paul Quinn College is located in Texas and maintains a small undergraduate population of 620 students. Business is its largest field of study, comprising 50 percent of total degrees awarded.

WHY THIS MADE YOUR LIST

- Academic fit — This school reports no test score ranges, so it is bucketed on its 40 percent admit rate alone.
- Program fit — Business accounts for 50 percent of degrees at this school.
- Location — Located in Texas, a long way from your home state of New Jersey.
- Cost — Average net price of $12,709 per year works in your favor given your financial aid needs.
- Story fit — With half of all degrees awarded in business, the academic environment aligns closely with your stock market focus, while soccer opportunities remain a thread for you to verify.

Trine University-Regional/Non-Traditional Campuses

Angola, IN · Private

Admit rate 40% · Avg net price $15,788/yr · 607 undergrads · Grad rate 0%

Trine University-Regional/Non-Traditional Campuses has an undergraduate size of 607 students in Indiana. Business degrees account for 45 percent of the institution's overall academic completions.

WHY THIS MADE YOUR LIST

- Academic fit — This school reports no test score ranges, so it is bucketed on its 40 percent admit rate alone.
- Program fit — Business accounts for 45 percent of degrees at this school.
- Location — Located in Indiana, a long way from your home state of New Jersey.
- Cost — Average net price of $15,788 per year works in your favor given your financial aid needs.
- Story fit — A 45 percent share in business degrees connects well with your finance interests, though you must confirm whether this non-traditional setup supports your college soccer ambitions.

Rutgers University-Newark

Newark, NJ · Public

Admit rate 71% · Avg net price $19,703/yr · 7,709 undergrads · Grad rate 64%

Rutgers University-Newark is a public school in New Jersey enrolling 7,709 undergraduate students. Business is a prominent discipline on campus, making up 40 percent of degrees awarded.

WHY THIS MADE YOUR LIST

- Academic fit — This school reports no test score ranges, so it is bucketed on its 71 percent admit rate alone.
- Program fit — Business accounts for 40 percent of degrees at this school.
- Location — Located in New Jersey, your home state.
- Cost — Average net price of $19,703 per year works in your favor given your financial aid needs.
- Story fit — The robust 40 percent business degree concentration reflects your passion for finance, leaving soccer program availability as your main item to check.

CUNY Bernard M Baruch College

New York, NY · Public

Admit rate 48% · SAT mid-50 1100–1400 · Avg net price $3,033/yr · 16,154 undergrads · Grad rate 72%

CUNY Bernard M Baruch College is located in New York with an undergraduate enrollment of 16,154. An overwhelming 72 percent of degrees awarded at this college are in business, and the average net price is $3,033.

WHY THIS MADE YOUR LIST

- Academic fit — Your 1400 SAT (nudged to 1430 for your 3.8 GPA) sits above its middle 50 percent range of 1100 to 1400.
- Program fit — Business accounts for 72 percent of degrees at this school.
- Location — Located in New York, one state over from your home state of New Jersey.
- Cost — Average net price of $3,033 per year works in your favor given your financial aid needs.
- Story fit — With an overwhelming 72 percent of degrees granted in business, this school directly targets your intense interest in finance and the stock market, though soccer options should be verified separately.

Goldey-Beacom College

Wilmington, DE · Private

Admit rate 85% · Avg net price $15,554/yr · 691 undergrads · Grad rate 57%

Goldey-Beacom College is a private school in Delaware with an undergraduate population of 691. Business studies represent a major priority for the institution, accounting for 49 percent of degrees.

WHY THIS MADE YOUR LIST

- Academic fit — This school reports no test score ranges, so it is bucketed on its 85 percent admit rate alone.
- Program fit — Business accounts for 49 percent of degrees at this school.
- Location — Located in Delaware, one state over from your home state of New Jersey.
- Cost — Average net price of $15,554 per year works in your favor given your financial aid needs.
- Story fit — Nearly half of all degrees are awarded in business, which speaks directly to your stock market ambition, though soccer opportunities are left for you to confirm.

Rutgers University-Camden

Camden, NJ · Public

Admit rate 66% · SAT mid-50 1050–1300 · Avg net price $18,745/yr · 3,753 undergrads · Grad rate 67%

Rutgers University-Camden is an in-state public option in New Jersey with 3,753 undergraduate students. Business degrees comprise 29 percent of the academic programs completed here.

WHY THIS MADE YOUR LIST

- Academic fit — Your 1400 SAT (nudged to 1430 for your 3.8 GPA) sits above its middle 50 percent range of 1050 to 1300.
- Program fit — Business accounts for 29 percent of degrees at this school.
- Location — Located in New Jersey, your home state.
- Cost — Average net price of $18,745 per year works in your favor given your financial aid needs.
- Story fit — The solid proportion of business graduates aligns with your finance goals, while playing varsity soccer is an ambition you will need to check against their specific athletic listings.

COLLEGE LIST